

Within the short space of a few days, the Princess Alice, who had been so long in the world, had passed away. It is a sad thing to think that she had been so long in the world, and yet so young. She was only twenty-five years of age when she died. Her death was a great loss to the world, and to the people of England. She was a very kind and gentle person, and her death was a great shock to the people of England. Her death was a great loss to the world, and to the people of England. Notices appear in the last Ontario Gazette of application to the Legislature for Acts:—To change the limits of the town of St. Mary's, and to transfer from the said town certain lands specified in the application, and to make due provision for effecting such transfer; extending the time for the completion of "The Barton and Glanford Macadamized Road" (being a road situate in the townships of Glanford and Barton, in the county of Wentworth), it having been recently ascertained that, through inadvertence, the said road was built about 120 yards less than five miles in length, the time limited for such completion by Sec. 78 of the "General Road Companies Act" having expired before such error in length was ascertained; for the amendment of the several Acts of the Legislature, in so far as the same apply to the municipality of Shuniah, and for legislation; (1) For the amendment of the 38-Vic. cap. 50, Statutes of Ontario, in relation to the election of the reeve by the electors, the fixing by the Council of the places for holding the nominations and polling for municipal elections, and for the extension of the term of the present council; (2) For the amendment of cap. 5 of the Revised Statutes of Ontario, by applying sec. 7 thereof to Lake Superior; (3) For fixing the jurisdiction of the stipendiary magistrate in cases of attachment and replevin within the municipality; (4) For the legalizing of the assessment rolls of the municipality as revised by the Court of Revision; (5) For providing for the payment of taxes on undivided interests in land within the municipality.

A meeting of the friends of Temperance was held in the King-street Methodist Church, Chatham, on Monday evening of last week, to consider the advisability of submitting the Scott Act to the electors of Kent at an early date. There was a fair attendance. The meeting was addressed by Mr. E. W. Stillness, Agent of the United Temperance Association of Ontario, Mr. R. S. Woods, Q.C., occupying the chair. The speaker reviewed the provisions of the new Temperance Act, and then explained that it was the endeavour of the Association of which he was the agent to induce as many of the counties of the Province as possible to enter into the campaign at once, and work in unison, and if possible have the voting on the Act take place simultaneously. To this end he urged that a committee be formed, which committee should call a convention of the temperance people of the county; this convention to consider the proposition of the Provincial Association, and if it saw fit to join the other counties in an united and vigorous campaign in favour of the adoption of the Act, they were to send two delegates to Toronto at a date hereafter to be set, there to meet other delegates and arrange for securing the required signatures and other work necessary to a successful carrying out of their object. After some debate a committee was formed, consisting of the following:—Messrs. R. S. Woods, Q.C., H. McPherson, T. S. Arnold-Hyde, Verrall, Geo. H. Taylor, Warren Martin, John Mountier, J. R. Gemmill, Jas. Higgins, J. T. West, B. M. Tatton, W. B. Dobyns, and the resident clergy. The committee will meet shortly to make arrangements for calling a convention.

of enfranchisement were still imperfectly free. What was this so-called protection? Protection of whom? Protection from what? Protection from cheap clothes, cheap food, cheap iron; protection from obtaining many comforts of life. It was the old story. They all knew Bastia's candle-makers' petition. Perhaps it was thought nothing so absurd could have occurred. Well, when gas was all the rage, and was being introduced as a means of lighting cities, the oil manufacturers petitioned His Majesty the King to take measures lest that pernicious invention should deprive a great industry of its legitimate market, and to prohibit the use under any form of gas. These gentlemen talked of national industries and national economy. England, they said, was in a very different position from France. Political economy was an English invention, and good for England. They did not perhaps know that free trade found its first great exponent in France. It was as absurd to say that the principles of political economy did not hold good for all nations as to say that there was an Italian, Spanish, or French chemistry, or any other science. Did they know that England was once protectionist? Well, there came a time when that country was suffering; everybody complained of the absence of business, and how things went from bad to worse notwithstanding all the fostering duties, till at last it came to be seen that famine was not to be cured by famine, but by abundance. The English markets were open from that day. The plenty waiting outside was let in. We all know how England was utterly ruined by that step, how she ranked last in point of prosperity among the European nations as her protectionist prophets predicted. It was ordained that man should earn his bread by the sweat of his brow. The protectionists wanted to avoid perspiring, but they must remember that the more they laboured the more bread they earned. M. Raoul Duval then spoke. He confuted the protectionists with figures. The returns of exports and imports for every branch of trade, indeed every kind of figures which could be appealed to, he showed, to denote an immense increase of prosperity in France since 1860, the date of the Anglo-French Treaty, an increase far exceeding that of the same number of years previous to 1860. He appealed in turn to the statistics of trade and industry, of the inventions registered, which had augmented 60 per cent. in 15 years, of the savings banks, of the holders of rents, who now numbered 2,000,000 persons, so that one person in nine was a rentier now-a-days. He then dwelt on the share that had fallen to Paris in this prosperity. In 1860 the protectionists bitterly prophesied that the French market would be inundated with English wares. Instead of this, it was France that had inundated the English markets, for she sent to England twice as much as England sent to her. Suppose England closed her market by way of reprisal, what a calamity it would entail. Was France injured, he asked; did she not dare to face the foreign producers? He drew an amusing picture of the protectionist manufacturers who come up to Paris to be examined by the Committee of Enquiry, and, in conclusion, he called upon all present to aid in keeping the foreign product out of the French market, but in opening up the foreign market to the French product.

per hundred. Ald. Granier, of the Montreal Police Committee, censured the detectives at a recent meeting of the Committee, charging that while they exhibited a skilful alacrity in ferreting out crime where a reward was offered they were supine if there was no reward. He thought that the detectives should receive nothing but their salaries. The connecting rail on the Collingwood branch of the H. & N. W. R. was laid late on Tuesday night of last week; about half way between Glencairn and Collingwood. There was great rejoicing at the latter place in consequence, suppers, &c., being the order of the day. The branch will be formally opened shortly after the new year. A new line of action to advance the interests of temperance has recently been inaugurated in one of the towns on the line of the northern railway, the ministers in which (with one or two exceptions) have arranged to have public temperance meetings once a fortnight in their several churches in rotation, hoping thereby to more effectively interest the members and adherents of the Churches in the great question of gospel temperance. Mr. Danford Swackhammer, of lot 32, con. 4, Esquimaux, was, with the assistance of some of his neighbours, engaged in building a log stable on his premises. While engaged in doing this a most dreadful and fatal accident occurred. It seems that one end of a log had been hoisted to its position and those present were engaged in raising the other end; when, by some means, the log slipped, and in falling struck Mr. Swackhammer on the back of the head, killing him instantly. Major Holmes, of "A" Battery, Kingston, was awarded the prize offered by the Dominion Artillery Association, for the best essay on "The proper proportion of Artillery, Field, Siege, and Garrison, for the present force of Active Militia of the Dominion of Canada, with suggestions as to its Organization, Equipment, and Localisation." The Broad Arrow, a British military journal, has highly approved of the treatment of the subject by Major Holmes, and speaks of it in the most complimentary terms. At the New Oneida Indian settlement Elijah Sickles has been appointed an interpreter at the Methodist Church in place of Rev. A. W. Sickles. There was a Christmas tree for the pupils on Christmas Day. The subscriptions were liberal, the presents purchased being varied but small articles. There are thirty children now enrolled on the register. Agent Thomas Gordon is well pleased with the good conduct of the Indians, who are very industrious at their work. During the year past there have been 8 marriages, 20 deaths, and 38 births. The Chatham Advocate says:—John McDaniel, well known in this locality, was found on Wednesday morning, December 25, lying in the road about four miles from here, and within a short distance of his home, in an unconscious state, with his limbs and face badly frozen. He was taken to the residence of Thomas Humfries, Sr., and Dr. Baxter was sent for, who made every effort to restore him to consciousness, but without success, and he died about nine o'clock the same evening. He had been absent from home for some weeks, and it is not known how he came to be found in this practising an imposition on the public by selling their rods at 37 1/2 cents per foot. The evidence showed that the defendant purchased 2,000 extra copies of that paper and caused the same to be circulated among merchants and farmers in different parts of the Province. And not being satisfied with this extensive publication of what the jury has decided to be a false and malicious libel, he (the defendant) as the evidence showed, caused to be printed several thousand hand bills and posters containing the same libel, to be distributed where the plaintiffs were doing business. The trial has occupied the attention of the court for the past three days, and yesterday afternoon ended by the jury finding a verdict for the plaintiffs and awarding them four thousand dollars as damages. This verdict is but further proof of the high standing the plaintiffs' Company has attained for honesty and fair dealing in a branch of trade which, by reason of the conduct of certain unscrupulous dealers and agents in this country is looked upon by some people as anything but an honorable business.

Be English sparrow has been as naturalized here that it will get rid of him. Hard things have and of this cheery, tough and pugna-tiviter. The objection has been raised drives away other birds by his quarrel and belligerent disposition. Dr. M. Brewer, of Boston, who is an authority upon ornithological subjects, says there were only five species of sparrows on Boston Common when the sparrow was introduced, there are now no less than seventeen. This is an additional why our citizens should be liberally in feeding the many sparrows now sojourning in our midst.

Mr. Osler, Q. C., and Mr. Teetzel acted as counsel for the plaintiffs, and Mr. Robertson, Q. C., and Mr. Wilkes for the defendant.

THE RAILWAY TO COLLINGWOOD.

Mr. John D. Macdonald, contractor, of Thorold, was in the city yesterday, having just been able to get through from Collingwood. He reports that the snow is five feet deep on the level, and in spots it is drifted from 10 to 15 feet high. It cost him $900 to clear the snow off the portion of the H. & N. W. R., over which his contract extends. The Bulletin, referring to the arrival of the first train at Collingwood, says:—The most prominent passenger was Mr. J. D. Macdonald, the contractor, who certainly deserves much credit for the manner in which he has carried the road to a successful completion in the face of difficulties which would have completely discouraged a less enterprising man.

Murder of an Indian.

A Handspike Proffered in Payment for a Load of Wood.

On Saturday last an Indian named Carpenter, residing on the Reserve, brought a load of wood into Caledonia for sale, and in the afternoon succeeded in selling it to a man named Smith, residing on the H. & P. D. R., near McKenzie's bridge. A dispute took place between the parties as to the quality of the wood, which became very excited. Smith at last became so excited that he seized a handspike which was lying in the sleigh and striking the Indian over the head inflicted a wound which on Monday resulted fatally.

THE SWISS LADY VOCALISTS.

When the Swiss Lady Vocalist Quartette Company last visited Hamilton we had occasion to speak of them in the highest terms. Their efforts in the Mechanics' Hall last night were such as to fully maintain the reputation they had previously acquired. It was a misfortune that they were unable to keep their appointment, two weeks ago, in consequence of the snow-storm. If they had, we do not doubt that the audience would have been much larger and more commensurate with their excellently rendered selections than it was last evening. What the audience lacked in numbers, however, they made up in kindly attention and warmth of enthusiasm.

The programme opened with a beautiful piano solo, "Valse de Concert," given with much taste by Miss Knight, who, in addition to accompanying the vocalists, played the "Polonaise Brillante" (Parker) with excellent taste and precision. The quartette consists of Miss Hilda Wideberg, first soprano; Miss Amy Aberg, second soprano; Miss Maria Pettersson, first alto; Miss Wilhelmina Soderlund, second alto; and the first piece presented was "Waldandacht" (Alb), which gave excellent scope for their fine voices, especially that of the first soprano. They were given a very hearty encore, and replied with a beautiful little ditty, also in their native dialect. Later on the quartette gave "Swedish College Songs" with much spirit, and to the delight of the audience, which recalled them, replied with two verses of "Home, Sweet Home." The "Peasant Wedding Dance" was the next concerted piece, and proved a very lively one. It is rarely, indeed, that so much variety of air is introduced and given successfully in one piece. Being encored, the ladies gave two verses of "Sweet By and Bye," the execution, particularly in the chorus, being magnificent. The slight difficulty which the quartette have in getting round some of the letters of the English alphabet only made their singing the more charming. Miss Soderlund was very warmly received in her rendering of "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep"—a fine song, but one which is seldom attempted by a lady. Miss Soderlund, however, did the piece full justice, and although some of her higher notes were not so rounded as they might have been, they were well within the range of the human voice.

Meeting of Shareholders.

A special general meeting of the shareholders of the above Company was held yesterday at the offices of the Company, at 10 o'clock.

The following shareholders were present: John I. Mackenzie, John Winer, James Turner, John Stuart, Thos. Macpherson, James Reid, Joseph Hoodless, M. Brennan, P. W. Dayfoot, J. W. Field, John Mitchell, Thomas Mitchell, George McKend, John Eastwood, A. Bruce, Chas. Cameron, M. Leggat, Wm. Hendrie, M. Howies, Charles Armstrong.

The President occupied the chair. The Secretary read the notice calling the meeting and certificate of due publication thereof, as follows: "A special general meeting of the shareholders of the Hamilton & North-Western Railway Company will be held at the Company's offices in the city of Hamilton, on Monday, the 20th day of January, 1879, at ten o'clock, forenoon, to consider and approve an agreement between the Company and the contractors, and an Act to amend the Acts relating to the Company, for which application is being made to Parliament."

The agreement between the company and contractors having been read and explained by the President, the following resolution was unanimously carried, on motion of Mr. R. R. Waddell, seconded by Mr. John I. Mackenzie.

"That the shareholders present at this special general meeting of the Hamilton & North-Western Railway Company, duly called, having heard read the proposed agreement of this date between the Hamilton & North-Western Railway Company of the first part, John Proctor of the second part, John Stuart and Wm. Hendrie of the third part, and Edward Gurney, James Turner, Mathew Leggat and P. W. Dayfoot of the fourth part, providing for the settlement of all matters between the Company and the other parties to such agreement, arising under the two contracts dated Nov. 27, 1875, and Feb. 11, 1876, for the construction of the line of the said railway and other matters, and having considered such agreement, do hereby approve of the same, and that the Secretary of the company be and he is hereby authorized to execute such agreement by affixing the Corporate seal thereto under his hand as Secretary."

The act to amend the acts relating to the Company was then explained by the President, whereupon the following resolution was unanimously carried:

Moved by Mr. JOHN WINER, seconded by Mr. JAMES REID, and resolved: That the Bill now before the Parliament of the Province of Ontario intitled "An Act relating to the Hamilton & Northwestern Railway Company," printed copies of which are before this meeting, be and the same hereby is approved of, and that the President, Vice-President and Mr. James Turner be a committee to promote its passage, and that they be fully empowered to deal with any amendments which may be proposed or found necessary in the progress of the Bill.

The meeting thereafter adjourned.

Hamilton, Jan. 20, 1879.

Accident on the Port Dover and Lake Huron Railway.

To the Editor of the SPECTATOR.

As the passenger train which left Listowel at 1:40 p. m., on Friday, January 17th, was crossing (at 2:15 p. m.) the 10th concession of Mornington, about one-fourth of a mile north of Millbank station, and two miles west of Morningdale village, the engine struck a team of horses, driven by Mr. McGorman. One of the horses was carried about fifteen rods on the cow-catcher, and then fell off the side of the track. The other horse was knocked from the track at the crossing, and when the train backed up to where the accident occurred, this horse was floundering in a snow drift, partially under the debris of the sleigh, and beside a cow which was apparently dead and nearly buried in the snow. It seems Mr. McGorman was driving the team in company with his brother, and that two or three small boys were driving a cow before the team. The men and boys declare positively that the engineer did not sound the whistle as he rapidly approached the crossing, and to this neglect they attributed the accident. The engineer and brakemen were as equally positive that the whistle was sounded to put on brakes, but, as it was, down grade, the train could not be stopped in time. There is a slight rise of ground in the track near the crossing, so that the McGormans could not have seen the engine more than a minute before it was upon them. The passengers in the car seemed unanimous in the opinion that the whistle was not sounded as the train drew near the crossing. Two gentlemen were standing on the rear platform of the only passenger coach on the train, when the accident happened, who did not hear any whistle of the engine, and they state the driver of the team was within a foot of the track as the train dashed past. He must have jumped from his sleigh a moment before the engine struck it, but strange to say the cow and one of the horses were thrown several feet beyond and over him. The cow must have stood beside the horses, three in a row. No doubt there will be a vexatious law suit as one result of this occurrence, if the Railway Company refuse to pay the damages. The farmer who owned the stock is said to be able to bear the loss (and consequently able to prosecute his claim also). There being a considerable depth of snow on the track, the sound of the train was deadened. It seems the only safe way to ensure timely warning of a coming train is to have a loud sounding spring bell on the engine, which shall be struck at every revolution of the drive wheels. Such a provision would probably have saved the life of an aged woman who was killed a few weeks ago on the Northern Railway. She attempted to walk over a cattle guard, apparently not hearing the approaching train, and she slipped, her feet getting fastened between the wooden cross pieces, which held her firmly, and she could only throw her body and one limb off the track before the train was upon her, crushing her fearfully. As we saw her mangled body we were forcibly reminded of the passage, "there is but a step between thee and death."

The Gas Company and Electric Light

To the Editor of the SPECTATOR.

Sir.—It appears that some of our citizens are very much exercised because the shareholders of the Hamilton Gas Company have applied for the amendments to their act of incorporation.

now increased to four. At a subsequent meeting of the proceedings Mr. Hugh Miller was appointed as the fourth examiner.

The Committee on Infringements reported in favor of allowing Detective Smith $10 for each conviction he obtained against parties doing business as chemists and druggists without a diploma from the Council. Where the prosecution fails he is to receive $5. The report was adopted.

Of sixty candidates who presented themselves before the Board, thirty-nine were successful in obtaining the marks requisite to entitle them to diplomas. Mr. H. S. Case, of Hamilton, took 14.1 marks for botany out of a total of 15. The first and second prizes for the highest total marks have been respectively awarded to J. A. Starr, of London, who obtained 98.4 marks out of a possible 115, and J. S. Mills, of Brantford, who obtained 98.1 marks. The candidates entitled to diplomas were:

PAUL, 80; K. Skinner, Clifton, 80; F. Noble, Welland, 79.3; T. J. McIntyre, St. Mary's, 78.8; N. Barrowclough, Port Hope, 71.1; R. Tutin, Paisley, 78.6; J. Hamilton, Staffa, 76.1; J. W. Ashbury, London, 75.4; B. G. Ross, Trenton, 75.2; G. S. Miller, Owen Sound, 75.1; F. G. Saunders, Stayner, 75; J. M. Mackel, Goderich, 75; R. C. Balmor, Oakville, 75.

MORE HAMILTON HONORS.—At the recent examinations before the Board of the Ontario College of Pharmacy, we observe that Mr. H. S. Case, of this city, succeeded in passing a highly successful examination and obtained a diploma. On one of the subjects he obtained 14.1 marks out of a possible 15, and on the whole 95.7 out of a possible 115, the lowest number entitling to diplomas being 75 marks. This is the fourth young gentleman out of the establishment of Messrs. John A. Barr & Co., of this city, who obtained diplomas from the College since its inauguration in 1871.

WATERDOWN HIGH SCHOOL.—At the last meeting of the Board of Education, held Wednesday evening at Watertown, Charles Sealey, Esq., Reeve, was appointed Chairman; Wm. Robson, Esq., Treasurer, and John Graham, Esq., Secretary. In consequence of the greatly increased attendance at the High School, and the necessity of adding more teachers to the staff, the building of a new High School came up for consideration. The matter was left over to be more fully discussed at the next meeting.

POLICE COURT.—At the sitting this morning there were but five drunks. Chas. Gray and John Taylor, two ancient bibulists, were fined $2 or 30 days in jail each. Amy McPherson is a most incorrigible old scoker, and therefore she was awarded $10 or the privilege of securing her freedom 90 days after date. John Lipsitt was sent up by being dismissed. Patrick Connors got drunk and disorderly over the quarrel with his step-father and was bound over in $100 to keep the peace for twelve calendar months.

NICE LEGAL POINT.—In the Maritime Court, on Thursday, in the suit regarding the Nithsdale, a nice point of law arose which is of considerable importance to dredge owners and the men working on dredges, namely, whether a dredge is a "ship" within the meaning of the Act giving jurisdiction to this Court. After some evidence was taken by the Court as to what a dredge is, the point of law was ably argued by Mr. Falconbridge for the plaintiff and Mr. McArthur for defendant. Judgment was reserved.

OBITUARY.—The death is announced of John M. Forbes, of North Oxford, aged 57. Mr. Forbes, who was a native of Aberdeenshire, Scotland, came to this country over 25 years ago. He was a stonemason and worked at his trade in Hamilton for two years after his arrival in Canada, after which he went to ANOTHER LINK TO THE NORTH.

NAPANEE, Feb. 7.—A large and influential meeting of the citizens of the town and county was held here last night to consider the advisability of constructing a railway from this place to the back country. The chair was occupied by Mayor James, and all prominent business men took part in the discussion, which was animated and earnest. A resolution was moved by E. Hooper, M. P., and seconded by W. S. Williams, endorsing the project. Another resolution was proposed by A. L. Morden, seconded by A. H. Roe, recommending the route to Tamworth by way of Napanee Mills, Newburgh, Clark's Mills, Coldbrook, Yarker, Moscow and Enterprise. A third resolution was proposed by Deputy-Reeve Wilson, seconded by R. Denison, appointing a committee, of which Mayor James is Chairman and W. S. Williams Secretary, to push the preliminaries. All these were carried unanimously and the people are thoroughly alive to the necessity of securing railway communication with the back townships. Another meeting is to be held at Newburgh on Saturday.

TORONTO, Feb. 7.—Mr. Bruce, solicitor for the H. & N. W. Railway, appeared before the Executive Committee yesterday, and asked that Committee to use its influence towards getting passed the Company's bill, now before the Legislature, to extend the line from Burlington to Toronto. It was decided to recommend the Council to indorse the legislation sought by the company. The G. W. R. are vigorously opposing the proposed extension, but influential men of the city are in favor of it, and it is expected there will be no trouble in getting the company's bill passed.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 7.—A year ago the contract for the Narrow Gauge Railroad from this city to Xenia, O., was given to one Benedict, at what was considered an exorbitant figure, the construction of the first five miles being placed at $300,000. It is now stated that Seth Haines had a secret contract with Benedict, by which the President was to receive $125,000.

THE EGG CROP.

How to Make "Laying" Profitable.

There is just now extraordinary excitement in the egg market, caused, no doubt, by the big European demand and the want of attention given to the production of poultry in Canada and the United States. In New York good fresh eggs sell at 42c. to 45c. wholesale, and 58c. to 60c. retail, and at centres of trade in Canada the price is from 26c. to 30c., figures which go to prove that the poultry and egg trade must be highly profitable to dealers, who, a short time since, bought at 15c. to 16c. per dozen, showing a clear profit of at least 25c. per dozen. It is the practice with Canadian farmers to give the product of the poultry to the female members of the family, and therefore it follows that if our farmers' wives and daughters will devote more attention

Feb 23 OBITUARY. Lucy
1879 Mrs. R. M. Hope-Turner

For several days past the illness of Mrs. B.
K. Hope has been the cause of very painful anxiety, and it is with mournful regret we have to announce that the worst fears of her many friends were realized yesterday morning by her death. On Saturday afternoon she rallied sufficiently to revive the drooping hopes of her recovery, but the favorable symptoms were of but short duration.

Mrs. Hope was the eldest daughter of Mr.
James Turner, of this city, and was born in Hamilton. It is but a little over a year ago since her marriage with Mr. Hope was the occasion of many congratulations from a widely extended circle of friends. The pleasant anticipations which the youthful pair were then the object of, lends a peculiar sadness to the death which disappoints them all in so short a time, and which teaches with such impressive force that "His ways are not as our ways."

Mrs. Hope was a favorite with all who knew her. A disposition which was vivacious, kindly and sensible made her a much valued companion, and endeared her to those who held a closer relationship. The bereaved husband and the two afflicted families have the deep sympathy and condolence of all.

Mr. Andrew Craigie.

The many friends of Mr. Andrew Craigie, of the Canadian Mutual Fire Insurance office
in this city, will regret to learn that he died suddenly at his residence, on the stone road, Barton, yesterday morning. Deceased had been in his office on Friday last, and no serious results were anticipated. For his many fine qualities his death will be much lamented by a wide circle of friends.

VALERONIAN SOCIETY CONCERT

He had frequently found it troublesome to ascertain who they had attended worship with. The poor should feel at home in God's house and should receive as much consideration as possible. It was lamentable to see any one debarred from attending church by reason of not being able to dress well. The home of God should be regarded as a sacred place—as occupying a position entirely and peculiarly its own. The singers should sing to the glory of God and not to their own glorification or the edification of their listeners. Every one should work, and be held responsible for what they did. The presence and blessing of God had often been felt in the Wesley church. He trusted the spirit of harmony, which had prevailed, would continue.

Miss Hoodless then sang a solo. "The Lord remembers his children."

Mr. Fletcher then read the report and statement. The report congratulated the congregation on the enlargement of the church and also that over one hundred had been seeking salvation during the past few weeks. The church had been begun and finished without any serious accident. The death of the late Ald. Crawford was then alluded to. The report concluded as follows:—

"This church, or chapel, was built in 1841, and looking at the records I find in 1845 that of the ten trustees spoken of three only are in life to-day—Mr. Robert Raw, Mr. W. Howard and Mr. J. Lister. In November, 1846, the trustees were feeling the pressure of the contractors who had built the school. July, 1847, tenders were required for a gallery, the work to be done by tradesmen in connection with the society and congregation. Mr. Powell's tender being accepted for £248 2s. 6d., or about $992.60. November, 1847, opening services. April, 1858, alterations to the amount of $2,000 or $8,000. January, 1870, alterations in the school-room to a larger extent. This may have to be repeated at no distant day. January, 1871, seats upholstered, at an estimated cost of $1,500. April, 1874, the Messrs. Ross Bros. frescoed the walls and ceiling, contributing liberally to it themselves. 1877, re-building the present building.

The statement of receipts and expenditure showed the following results:—

Receipts	$6,699 94
Expenditure	5,441 99
Balance applied to Building Fund	4,288 00

The total cost of the building proper was a little over $1,400 and the balance of the amount, $17,366.36, in furnishing the church.

Rev. Mr. Gaetz said it was the intention to prepare a fuller statement, which would be placed in the hands of pew-holders. The church had been built at a cheap rate. The reports and statements was adopted.

Mrs. MacArthur gave a solo, "Tender and true adieu."

Rev. Dr. Burns, President of the Wesleyan Female College, was then introduced, and after alluding to Prof. Fanning, said that the occasion was one of great congratulation. He thought that the church should have cost from $25,000 to $30,000, and therefore must congratulate Rev. Mr. Gaetz and the congregation upon the cheap manner in which the church had been built. The church was needed anyway, and Mr. Gaetz never preached a poor sermon, and that was the reason probably why the attendance was so good. He had never heard better preaching in his life than he had heard in Hamilton since he came back, but he hadn't heard Bro. Griffin. Dr. Burns then related some anecdotes, and gave some humorous illustrations of the manner of church goers. It was a great thing for a preacher and for a people to feel at home. There were a great many gypsies or traveling tinkers in the church. In the United States it was rare to see children in church. Here it was common. The church he had attended when a boy was sacred to life memory. In his darkest hour he had never felt contempt for the Christian religion, and the reason was that he had attended church when young. Humanity should be made to feel that it had a right in the house of God. He condemned the use of churches for dances, etc. The speaker congratulated the congregation again, and took his seat amid applause.

Miss Howard sang "He wipes the tear from every eye."

Rev. W. S. Garvin was then introduced, and congratulated Rev. Dr. Burns on his speech, as well as Rev. Mr. Gaetz. The church was not simply a place for teaching but a home. The spirit of friendship, charity and faith should be developed and improved. The friendship which preachers to be praised which is all hollow sound in not the thing. The church which did not develop true friendship failed in its duty. The finest part of the late Mrs. R. K. Hope—

Rev. M. Lyle's Farewell Tribute to Her Memory.

Yesterday afternoon a very large number of citizens paid their last token of respect to the memory of the late Mrs. R. K. Hope (whose death at no premature an age we have already announced) by attending the remains to their last resting place in Burlington Cemetery. At three o'clock there was service for the relatives at the late residence of the deceased, and subsequently the cortege wended its way to the Central Presbyterian church, where there was public service. The church was crowded with representatives of every class in the community, showing the universal esteem in which deceased has been held. A very large number of those present was ladies. As the caquet was borne up the aisle, the choir sang a suitable hymn—Mr. Parker, of the Centenary church, in the unavoidable absence of Mr. Whish, presiding at the organ. Rev. Mr. Lyle, pastor of the church, then read from Rev. viii. from 9th verse. He then, with a voice betokening great emotion, addressed them as follows:

"Sad and solemn are the circumstances that have called us together to-day. We meet in tears to lay in the lone and silent grave the remains of our dear departed friend. Of her I do not intend to speak at any length; indeed, there is none I should, as she was well known and greatly beloved by all. But, as one who had the painful privilege of seeing and talking with her ere she breathed her last, I may be permitted to speak of her high Christian character, and of her calm triumph in the dark and trying hour of death. With a fortitude that plainly bespoke a conscience void of offence; with a meek submission that clearly told of her faith in her Saviour; with a brightness, forthright, and cheerfulness peculiarly her own she said good-bye to all her sorrowing friends standing around, and through them sent her Christian dying benediction to those absent. But the trait that most marked her character was her thorough, out and out, unselfishness. Some are so intent on talking about Christian charity that they have no time to work out in detail its holy lessons. She, however, with a true, Christianlike, practical helpfulness, did the kindly act and spoke the encouraging word—lived her creed, and thus became a beam of light in this dark world. The light of many eyes, the joy of many hearts, the inspiration and guiding star of those that fondly called her child, sister and wife, she leaves behind her the memory of a pure and blessed life. As we try to estimate our great loss, our hearts surcharged with grief cry out, 'Lord, speak to these anxious hearts of ours and bid them be still.' To her many friends that I see in this church to-day I would say she is not dead, but sleepeth; such as she cannot die; she lives embodied in the loving memories of the good and the true—lives in the light of God, and wraps around with a Christ given glory she rests in the arms of Him that loved her to death. Beating in spirit let us calmly and solemnly but hopefully take all that is left of her, and solemnly but reverently lay it in the grave in the sure and certain hope of a high and blessed immortality.

The address was listened to with rapt attention, and ere it close it was evident that the audience were deeply touched by the recollections it stirred up. There were but few dry eyes in the church as the service proceeded.

The choir, having sung "Jesus, lover of my soul," Rev. Mr. Fletcher offered up a prayer, and the affecting proceedings terminated with the singing of that beautiful hymn, "Nearer, my God, to Thee."

The cortege was then reformed. At the grave Rev. Mr. Lyle again engaged in devotional exercises.

The caquet was bedecked with beautiful floral tributes, sent by the many friends of the deceased lady in this city, and also in New York, Toronto and other distant points. The designs were emblematical, embracing crowns, crosses, stars, etc. The pulpit of the church was draped in black, and on either side were placed beautiful floral tributes. A low crown on either side of the pulpit were the words "Rest" and "Peace."

The following were the pall-bearers:—Dr. Mullock, Messrs. A. Harvey, F. Macdonald, A. Bruce, J. J. Mason, A. Benner, A. McInnes and George Greer.

THE EAST AND WEST.

THE SALARIES REDUCTION AGITATION.—At the last meeting of the Property Owners' Association, the following resolution was unanimously passed:—"Moved by D. B. Fisher and seconded by Geo. H. Jenkins, and resolved, that a vote of thanks be tendered by this Association to the members of the City Council, who, at their last meeting, advocated the reduction of our city officials' salaries, and the members of this Association do heartily approve of the initiative steps that some of the aldermen have taken in endeavoring to bring about a retrenchment in our city finances;" and this Association beg at the same time to express their condemnation of the principle of giving to corporate officers a multiplicity of offices.

THE GUNN STALKER.—William Randall, the man accused of stealing Wm. Bradfield's geese in Glanford some time ago, was brought before Mr. Cahill this morning, and after the evidence had been received, was sentenced to six months in the Central Prison. Randall received twelve months about three years ago for stealing a cow. About two weeks ago Randall got married, and this morning, after being sentenced, the two engaged in a large amount of hugging, Randall leaping over the edge of the pen and playing with his better half's curls.

ANOTHER ATTEMPT TO GULL.—The Globe of to-day had four columns of a letter in reference to the Afghan war, headed "By telegraph to the Globe." This is another attempt to gull its readers, inasmuch as the night editor, on the arrival of the last English mail in that city, vigorously set his scissors to work on a London Standard, and had the "telegraphic" dispatch carved out. The next thing our would-be-regarded enterprising contemporary attempts will be to announce that it gets the Toronto City Council by telegraph!

THE WOOLLEN TRADE.—Our Ottawa correspondent telegraphs: "A number of leading representatives of the woollen industry are in the city at present interviewing members of the House in regard to the imposition of campon duties and specie. The object of these duties is to prevent the importation of certain kinds of shoddy material into the country." Mr. D. McInnes, of Hamilton, is expected here in connection with the matter.

DEATH OF AN O. R. R. R. R.—Our obituary column to-day contains the notice of the death of Margaret Deth, at the ripe old age of 110 years and 11 months. She was a great applicant. Altho A. Smith, Misses and Messrs. Bull rendered a composition of a sacred character.
